

Mitch

When I address an issue I will address directly with a student athlete then also involve the guidance counselors and the parents, and that involvement is at least alerting the guidance counselor to the problem that I am seeing, and alerting the parents as well as a kind of prevention/intervention opportunity. And often times we'll all meet together – the guidance counselor and the coach and the student athlete – to try to address the issue.