

Hope

I later found out kids are great manipulators and they know how to get and say what they want and when they want it and they know what you need to hear as a parent so that you will back off.