

American Indian Anti-Meth Campaign

“Who Am I?” (Girl) Youth Radio Advertisement Transcript

MUSIC UP

FEMALE TEEN:

Who am I? Am I Indian?
Just 'cuz I'm a girl from the rez, don't make things up about me.
What if I move away, then who am I?
Some kids try meth...just to escape.
But then I think about my Grandma. My little brother.
My beadwork. My poetry.
And I think, I like who I am.
And I know - meth is not for me.

MALE TEEN ANNOUNCER::

Check out more at ncai.org.

A message from the Partnership for a Drug-Free America and the National Congress of American Indians.

Sponsored by ONDCP. Creative furnished by Partnership for a Drug-Free America.